Dear Applicant,

The Code Officials Educational Association believes in and supports not only primary education but also continuing education for everyone involved in the construction industry: engineers, architects, inspectors, contractors, project managers, superintendents, foremen, and tradesmen. The members of the Association believe that when those who run projects or perform the work are better educated in their fields, construction projects will run more efficiently for all involved.

To this end, we offer scholarships in two categories:

1. Two one-thousand-five-hundred-dollar scholarships for an individual pursuing a construction management degree or a degree related to construction in a recognized and accredited institute of higher education, to anyone attending a trade or technical school in a construction-related field or to anyone seeking a design degree such as architecture or engineering.
2. Two one-thousand-dollar scholarships are available to immediate family members of a COEA member regardless of the field of higher education.

This is one-time funding; recipients receiving this scholarship will not be eligible for future scholarships; however, any applicant not selected may re-apply in future years. Those applicants selected to receive a scholarship this year will be required to attend the COEA's annual installation, along with their guest's in December to receive their award.

We encourage all interested parties to seek and hopefully receive one of these scholarships. Your participation is greatly appreciated.

Attached is an application for the Jim Smith Memorial Scholarship. The deadline for application submittal is October 31st, the year of application.
